The law firm of Adams and Reese LLP is a proud "Champion" level sponsor of the Jefferson Chamber of Commerce and a longstanding member of the Chamber that is committed to supporting the Chamber because the Chamber is vital to the economic growth of Jefferson Parish.

Since 1997, the Chamber has grown to nearly 1,000 member companies, and Adams and Reese encourages other businesses to join the Chamber and support the Chamber's mission of "Improving Business; Improving Lives," by implementing relevant and informative programming and providing opportunities to build relationships and network with other businesses in the community.

Recently, in 2013, Adams and Reese Partner Johnny Domiano served as Board Chairman of the Jefferson Chamber and helped the Chamber earn the distinction as the state's leading Chamber of Commerce of 2013, according to the Louisiana Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives (LACCE). The Jefferson Chamber was recognized for its strength of voice in policy making, quick rise in membership, commitment to businesses in Jefferson, promotion of economic development in the region and impressive array of business networking opportunities for members. The distinction was an example of the Chamber being a more active and aggressive voice for business development and economic stimulation, and working in harmony to help existing businesses grow and also welcome new business to Jefferson.

In 2006, Adams and Reese received Jefferson Parish Chamber "Member of the Year" because of the firm's outstanding financial support of the Chamber, and its active participation in Chamber events and committees. The firm is currently a member of the Founder's Circle, and has annually supported events including Jubilation, the State of the Parish Address, the Washington, D.C., Mardi Gras Ball and Fly-In, as well as crawfish boils and raffles.
