An evening with a view

NASHVILLE 4:51 p.m. CDT April 7, 2014

Members of A Tennessee Waltz Ladies' & Gentlemen's Committee spent an evening enjoying the view from the offices of Adams & Reese LLP located in the Fifth Third Bank Building on Church Street. From the patio on the 27th floor, the view was absolutely stunning.

As the sun set to the west and the lights of the city twinkled, guests sipped beverages and, once back inside, meandered around the silent auction items. Nancy Russell had collected a plethora of items to choose from, and the bidding over several items was a bit heated. But that's what generates monies and makes for a good time.

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Committee co-chairs Anna and Gif Thornton hosted the evening, which also included a spread of tasty treats from chef Michael Wright of Experience Michaels. The 22nd annual A Tennessee Waltz, which is sold out, will take place on April 26 at the Tennessee State Capitol Building.

Joining the Thorntons were Waltz co-chairs Lynda and David Evjen, Cathy and Bob Thomas, Carole and Bob Ferguson, Tootie Haskins, Andrew Potts, Anne and Joe Russell, Joan and Will T. Cheek and Don and Anita Baltimore.
